

Eyewitness Children's Encyclopedia 1.3

Newsweek: "A beautiful piece of eye candy for hungry minds."

A variety of fantastically rendered 3D landscapes transport children to virtual worlds - from the rain forest to the inside of the Earth, from their backyard to deep space - in which every scene and object is linked to brilliantly presented in-depth information. The encyclopedia is extensively cross-referenced and you can leave "sticky notes" on screens as you go along so you can go back to favorite sections. Far more than a collection of information, the Eyewitness Children's Encyclopedia is an absorbing, well-written, interactive experience from Dorling Kindersley multimedia which will set children on a path of lifelong learning.

Home PC: "Lives up to DK's reputation for outstanding photography...there are some exceptional video clips."

Good Morning America ABC-TV: "Very interactive and a lot of fun."

Computer Shopper: "If you buy one piece of children's software this season, make it [this title]. These might seem strong words, but for a combination of fun and learning, this reference CD-ROM will enthrall young children like nothing else we've seen."
